Dear Sir,

Your Thursday only subscription to "The Age"
expired with the issue dated October 24, 1968,
an although a renewal notice was forwarded,
we have not, as yet, received your remittance.

We understand that international money orders and bank drafts take a considerable time to arrange : we have, therefore, allowed the subscription to continue.

We would, however, appreciate your advice informing us if you intend to renew the subscription.

Yours faithfully,

(S. E. Searle.)

Subscription Clerk.

Thank you, no.

My main interest was
in following my column,
Science & Man, which I believe has been discontinued

Yours truly
